* Number of counties does not include the five boroughs of New York City, which is counted as a city in this table.

** Given reporting inconsistencies, the total number of special purpose units is not exact. Special Purpose Units include separately-reported town special districts, local authorities and joint activities established to provide water, sewer, garbage disposal, recreation and youth programs. They also include industrial development agencies, libraries, boards of cooperative education services (BOCES) and community colleges.
