Report 2007-S-120

AUDIT OBJECTIVES

Our objectives were to determine whether the Day Op Center of North Nassau (Day Op) routinely waived Empire Plan members' out-of-pocket costs, and if so, to quantify the overpayments made by United HealthCare (United) resulting from this practice. Our audit covered the period January 1, 2001 through December 31, 2006.

AUDIT RESULTS - SUMMARY

We found that Day Op routinely waived Empire Plan members' required out-of-pocket costs for services provided. We calculated that, as a result of this practice, United overpaid claims submitted by Day Op over our six-year audit period at a cost of almost $1.5 million to the State. This practice drives up costs for the Empire Plan, since it increases the likelihood that members will use non-participating providers, such as Day Op, which generally receive higher reimbursement rates than participating providers. Furthermore, routinely waiving such costs may constitute insurance fraud.

We are referring this matter to the New York State Department of Civil Service for appropriate action. In addition, our report contains two recommendations for United to recover overpayments from Day Op, as well as the duplicate payments and to prevent Day Op from routinely waiving patients' out-of-pocket costs.

BACKGROUND

The New York State Health Insurance Program (Program) provides health insurance coverage to active and retired State, participating local government and school district employees and their dependents. The Empire Plan is the primary health benefits plan for the Program. The New York State Department of Civil Service contracts with United HealthCare (United) to process and pay medical claims for services provided to Empire Plan members. The State reimburses United for the payments it makes under the Empire Plan, and pays United an administrative fee.

United contracts with providers who furnish medical services to Empire Plan members and who agree to be reimbursed at rates established by United. United pays these participating providers directly based on claims they submit for services rendered to members. Members pay a nominal co-payment to the participating provider.

Members may choose to receive services from non-participating providers. The claims submitted to United by non-participating providers for any given service usually reflect rates that are higher than the rates that participating providers agree to accept for the same service. To limit its liability, United will only pay non-participating provider claims based on the lesser of reasonable and customary costs for services or the amount claimed.

As a disincentive, the Empire Plan requires members to pay higher out-of-pocket costs (including a deductible and a co-insurance rate) when they use non-participating providers. After the member meets the annual deductible, United will reimburse the member 80 percent of the claim. The member is responsible for settling with the non-participating provider, including any out-of-pocket costs owed.

Participating providers agree to accept reimbursement rates that are generally lower than the rates for non-participating providers because there are several advantages. For example, Empire Plan members are encouraged to use participating providers to avoid paying the higher out-of-pocket costs. In addition, United directly reimburses participating providers, thereby eliminating any problems resulting from collecting payments from various patients.

Our audit focused on claims submitted by the Day Op of North Nassau (Day Op), which is a gastroenterological surgical facility located on East Shore Road in Great Neck, New York. Three of the physicians who use Day Op also have a separate practice in the same building. These three physicians participate in the Empire Plan. However, Day Op itself does not participate as a provider in the Empire Plan. United's reimbursement for services provided at Day Op consists of the facility fee for the use of Day Op's facility, its personnel and equipment. During the six-year period ended December 31, 2006, United paid Day Op claims totaling $6.1 million for Empire Plan members.

AUDIT FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

When United processes Day Op claims for services to Empire Plan members, it is with the understanding and belief that members are liable for a portion of the claimed amount representing their out-of-pocket obligation. Our audit found that Day Op is routinely waiving Empire Plan members' out-of-pocket obligations. This negates the intended disincentive from using the more costly non-participating providers and thus drives up the cost of the Empire Plan to taxpayers.

As Day Op's intention was to waive members' out-of-pocket costs, the amount claimed by Day Op should reflect this reduction, and the reimbursement by United should have been calculated on the lower amount. However, we found Day Op claims do not indicate that out-of-pocket costs were waived. Accordingly, United was presented with and made reimbursement calculations based on inflated claims. We calculated that, as a result, United overpaid claims submitted by Day Op during our six-year audit period at a cost of almost $1.5 million to the State.

To determine the overpayment, we selected medical claims submitted by Day Op where United was the primary payer and where members' out-of-pocket costs were included on the claim. For the period January 1, 2001 through December 31, 2006, we identified 2,761 billings totaling $5.7 million meeting these criteria. To determine whether Day Op waived members' out-of-pocket costs, we reviewed a sample of 164 randomly-selected billings from the 2,761 billings, and evaluated the results using statistical methods. We reviewed Day Op's financial records and found that the members' out-of-pocket costs were waived for 159 of the 164 sampled bills. For the other five sampled bills, Day Op did collect the coinsurance from the member.

From our random sample, we calculated an overpayment of $99,325 due to the fact that the bills were inflated; Day Op reported the entire billed amount, without reducing the claim for the waived members' out-of-pocket costs. A projection of these audit overpayments to the entire population, using statistical sampling methods and a 95 percent single-sided confidence level, results in an audit overpayment of $1,461,856.

Furthermore, the State incurs substantially higher costs for services rendered by non-participating providers, such as Day Op, than for the same services rendered by participating providers. From our sample, we selected the 30 highest paid claims submitted by Day Op to United for Empire Plan members whose out-of-pocket costs were waived. We then calculated the amount United would have paid if the members had instead gone to a participating provider. We determined that the average payment would have been 74 percent less for participating providers. Some of the differences were extreme. For example, United paid $6,917 for one bill in our sample. If the patient had the same procedures preformed in a participating facility, the cost would have been $1,111. Day Op benefits from the higher reimbursement paid for non-participating provider services. Their higher reimbursement results in increased costs to the State.

Moreover, under the New York Penal Law, submitting an insurance claim with false information, such as an inflated charge for service, may constitute insurance fraud. In addition, waiving of out-of-pocket costs unjustly enriches the provider because the payment should be based on the provider's actual charge, which is the amount the provider intends to accept as payment. Finally, the New York State Insurance Department concluded that it may be a violation of the State Insurance Law, and a fraudulent billing practice, when a provider routinely waives out-of-pocket costs and accepts the amount the insurer reimburses as payment in full.

Officials at the Department of Civil Service and the State Insurance Department are concerned about fraud in the Empire Plan. Officials are concerned that providers who waive Empire Plan members' out-of-pocket costs are doing so intentionally, in order to benefit from the higher reimbursement rates for non-participating providers. The three physicians who provide services at Day Op participate in the Empire Plan. Empire Plan members are treated by these participating physicians, and are referred by the same physicians to the non-participating Day Op. The possibility exists that Day Op waived Empire Plan members' out-of-pocket costs because most Empire Plan members would not otherwise accept a referral to a non-participating provider, and incur significant out-of-pocket expenses.

Additionally, reviewing the sampled claims we determined United erroneously processed 5 of the 164 claims twice and overpaid the members. The amount of overpayment for these claims totaled $13,093.

Recommendations

1. Recover the $1,461,856 in overpayments from Day Op and the $13,093 in duplicate payments.
2. Work with the Department of Civil Service to pursue an appropriate course of action designed to prevent Day Op from waiving patients' out-of-pocket costs.

AUDIT SCOPE AND METHODOLOGY

We conducted our performance audit in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards. Our audit focused on identifying overpayments from claims submitted by Day Op to United during the period January 1, 2001 through December 31, 2006 where there was a risk of Day Op waiving the member's out-of-pocket costs.

To accomplish our objectives, we reviewed a random sample 164 billings submitted by Day Op. We reviewed Day Op's financial records, United's cancelled checks, and United's Explanation of Benefit statements, to determine if Day Op was waiving the Empire Plan members' out-of-pocket costs.

In addition to being the State Auditor, the Comptroller performs certain other constitutionally and statutorily mandated duties as the chief fiscal officer of New York State. These include operating the State's accounting systems; preparing the State's financial statements; and approving State contracts, refunds, and other payments. In addition, the Comptroller appoints members to certain boards, commissions, and public authorities, some of whom have minority voting rights. These duties may be considered management functions for purposes of evaluating organizational independence under generally accepted government auditing standards. In our opinion, these management functions do not affect our ability to conduct independent audits of program performance.

AUTHORITY

The audit was performed pursuant to the State Comptroller's authority as set forth in Article V, Section 1 of the State Constitution and Article II, Section 8 of the State Finance Law.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

We provided preliminary copies of the matters contained in this report to United officials for their review and comments. United officials agree with our audit findings and conclusions.

Within 90 days of the final release of this report, we request that the President of United HealthCare report to the State Comptroller, advising what steps were taken to implement the recommendations.
